All Out Probe of Labor Asked at Convention

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—Labor racket investigators should extend their activity to subordinate union officials, a 3-state convention of the AFL-CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers said yesterday.

A resolution declared that "only top officials" should be touched by the current senatorial investigation. It expressed fear that "lieutenants" might remain to keep racketeering entrenched until the return of "higher-ups."

About 175 delegates who met here represented 11,000 OCAW members in Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas. Joseph Appelbaum of St. Louis, district director, said the resolution was in general terms and not aimed at specific union leaders.

The resolution said misconduct exists in a few labor organizations.

Appelbaum said anti-labor forces are seizing upon the Teamsters union probe to restrict bona fide labor activities.

Another resolution called for the repeal of right to work laws in Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas.

Hit Parade Singers to Leave 'Golden Coffin'

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—After living seven years in a gold coffin, Dorothy Collins feels right now like an emerging butterfly that has stayed overlong in its cocoon.

I want to stretch my wings and see how far I can fly on my own, she said. I want to show people what I can do.

The gold coffin in her case has been "Your Hit Parade," the durable NBC radio show that also invaded video in 1930 and for most of the time since then has been among the top 15 TV programs.

Although it is a wonderful howl for talent, such a program is known in the entertainment world as a gold coffin. The reason: It pays too good to leave, but in time it becomes a kind of straitjacket to a performer.

Twisters Leave Some Damage Across South

By United Press
Tornadoes hopped and skipped across the South, leaving a spotty trail of destruction from Texas to Alabama today.

The twisting winds injured at least seven persons and were wreaked considerable property damage. Driving rains accompanied the twisters.

Four persons were hurt, none seriously, when a small tornado ripped through a small section just south of Mobile, Ala., early today.

The tornado toppled a house trailer and over and for 300 yards and tore down trees and power lines.

Three persons were injured and two houses were blown off foundations just before midnight when a tornado slashed across the coastal parish of Plaquemine, in Louisiana.

The tornado ripped the roofing from a packing company plant in Naim, La., and a radio operator in the sheriff's office at Port Sulphur said: I thought it was Hurricane Flossy hitting again.

Earlier yesterday a tornado funnel was sighted near McComb, Miss., and high winds twisted the tops out of trees in the area.

Tornadoes, high winds and floods hit Texas yesterday.

The turbulent weather was such a hop-skip nature that the U.S. Weather Bureau had to revise severe weather warnings at least.

Mediscal Bill Awaits Faubus' Signature

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—Looming as the major bill before Gov. Orval Faubus, who has three days left to sign or veto it, is the measure providing county patient quotas at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

After disposing of three other important bills Saturday, Faubus said the patient quota matter "is the most controversial one remaining."

It would limit the number of indigent patients to be admitted to the 233-bed hospital. Opposition is reported from Little Rock, North Little Rock and Pulaski County, where ratio of patient admissions would be reduced greatly under the bill.

The governor said he planned to confer with university officials and Medical Provost Douglas Lawrence to discuss handling of the quota plan as an administrative matter.

Faubus commented: It would be tragic if a county ran out of its quota and couldn't get more patients admitted while beds were empty because other counties were not using their quota at a particular time.

Faubus has until Wednesday to sign bills still in his office before they become law automatically.

He signed the Senate version of the 164-million-dollar highway appropriation bill Saturday.

He also signed a Senate bill creating a regulatory commission to govern the sale of new and used motor vehicles.

He vetoed a bill which would have required public employees to take a loyalty oath.

In signing the Senate road bill the governor vetoed the House measure, which was similar except for the Toadsuck amendment.

That provision — which now is law — directs the Highway Department to buy out the privately held interest in the Toadsuck Ferry between Faulkner and Perry counties near Conway. The ferry will be run without tolls.

Also included in the highway measure is a minimum scale provision for lower-paid Highway Department employees. It was a dispute over this phase which resulted in the Legislature's regular adjournment without passage of the highway bill — and made the special session necessary.

The Arkansas Motor Vehicle Commission act which Faubus signed was sponsored by the Arkansas Automobile Dealers Assn. It establishes a commission with power to regulate new and used car dealers.

The Independent Association of Automobile Dealers of Arkansas opposed the measure, claiming it would give the commission broad authority to put dealers out of business.

The loyalty oath bill died after a chain of events that saw its sponsor, Sen. Artie Gregory of North Little Rock, decided once to withdraw it after passage.

It stirred opposition from a number of sources, mainly on grounds that it was unnecessary and reflected on patriotism of public employees.

U. S. Payroll Hits An All-Time Peak

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) reported today the federal payroll hit an all-time peak in January of a billion dollars a month.

Byrd, who heads the Senate House Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Expenditures, said recent civilian workers for the government drew $800,000,000 and payroll funds for foreign nationals employed by U. S. agencies abroad totaled $16,700,000 in January.

This total was reported despite a decrease in employment which occurred during the same month," Byrd said.

He said payrolls for the first seven months of fiscal year 1937, totaled $6,600,000,000, for a monthly average of $93 million dollars.

Byrd has contended that one of the quickest ways to cut Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget is to reduce the number of federal employees.

Congress May Act to Protect Laboring Man

By FRE S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigation of alleged slugging by Teamsters Union officials is stirring demands that Congress act to safeguard the rights of the laboring man.

Such demands were voiced over the weekend by Republican and Democratic senators, by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and by Americans for Democratic Action.

Proposals ranged from greater protection of "democratic processes" in unions to closer policing of union funds.

There was some talk that the Senate probe might build a fire under a drive for enactment of more state "right-to-work" laws, which outlaw the union shop. Eighteen states already have them. The possibility was raised too of a federal "right-to-work" law.

Debate arose over whether the disclosures would set back the labor movement. Senators Ives (N.Y.) and Kefauver (D-Tenn) said they feared this would happen. Mitchell disputed this view.

Sen. McClellan (Ark.), chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, said yesterday, "I wouldn't, as a result of these hearings, simply undertake to pass laws of reprisal, laws of punishment."

The committee, in recess for a few weeks, has undertaken a search for evidence of racketeering in both labor and management. So far, it has concentrated on activities of certain leaders of the giant Teamsters Union.

It has heard testimony that union funds were used to finance real estate investments and to pay for racing stables, lavish homes and other personal outlays of these officials.

McClellan said the hearings so far clearly indicate to him that there should be federal legislation "to insure the democratic processes in unions" and to insure the security of their funds so they cannot be dissipated or misappropriated or stolen or diverted to any other purpose than union purposes.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said legislation is needed to put some teeth in Taft-Hartley law provisions dealing with union reports of their finances.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said he favors public disclosure of union welfare and pension funds to clean up this mess.

Secretary Mitchell said on a television program an administration bill to allow publication of union financial reports will be pressed again this year. He said it lay dormant in Congress last year.

Angry Boy Shoots Five of His Family, 4 Dead

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., (AP)—How are they? Are they going to live?

Chief of Detectives Verne Starmer answered the telephone at the Ossie Woolridge home.

Woolridge, 37-year-old plumber and heating installer, was dead. So was Mrs. Woolridge, 45; Dorcas, 11, youngest of their two daughters; and Paul, 6, youngest of their four sons. Dorcas, 12, was shot through the neck and side, critically wounded.

You better give yourself up, Starmer told the voice on the phone—a Mr. Smith. It was a young voice. Starmer recognized it despite the disguise.

So the police picked up 14-year-old Daniel Woolridge at a theater where remorse had overtaken him as he watched The Wrong Man, an Alfred Hitchcock detective thriller.

Prosecutor Frank Connell Jr., said the sobbing boy signed a statement saying he suddenly went crazy.

A quiet Sunday dinner at the Woolridge home, after Sunday school at the Riverside Presbyterian Church, had erupted in a fusillade between Daniel and his parents.

Daniel wanted to go for a ride. His father said it was too cold.

Daniel stormed out of the house but returned in a few minutes. He asked his mother to give back the hunting knife she had taken away from him. She said she had thrown it away.

Daniel sat down for a moment. Then he got a pump action .22 rifle.

Woolridge was shot in the head while napping on a living room couch. Mrs. Woolridge ran in the kitchen and was shot in the face. Little Paul tried to scurry out of the house and was cut down. The two girls were felled in the living room. It was about 1:30 p.m.

Joseph Woolridge, 18, found the carnage when he came home at 6:50 from a date in Kansas City. He called police and an ambulance.

One of the ambulance crew was Milton Woolridge, oldest son of the family. He tried to help Dorcas and drove her to the hospital.

The call from Mr. Smith came at 7:50.

Investigators said the boy had no police record, he has been in the eighth grade at South Park School and a regular at Sunday school.

Daniel is in jail. No charge was filed immediately, pending determination of his status as a juvenile.

40 Stockmen Attend Field Study Day

More than 40 beef cattle producers were in attendance at the field day to promote selections and management of beef cattle at the John J. Wilson farm near Columbus on Friday under the direction of County Agent Oliver L. Adams.

Cows and calves with sires of the calves that made up the Wilson herd were shown the group. Mr. Wilson discussed his program aimed at increasing weaning weight, grade and quality, and overall management practices in use in an effort to increase the possible net farm income. All 1937 calves were marked, dehorned and mostly vaccinated for blackleg, malignant edema, and shipping fever.

Extension Animal Husbandman, J. Herbert Carrier, discussed factors to consider in beef production with emphasis on the selection of replacement females to produce feeder quality calves. Mr. Carrier said characters to consider included: uniformly, natural fleshing and thickness, breeding quality, bone, conformation, and health including Bang's, blackleg, malignant edema, and shipping fever vaccination.

Ned Ray Purdie, a county Hereford producer and chairman of the Hempstead County Agricultural Planning Committee's Committee on Beef, directed a selection activity where producers in attendance select 15 head of yearling heifers for possible herd replacements from a pen of 26 animals. Bob Childs of Glencrest farms of Nashville assisted Mr. Purdie.

Burglary and Wreck Probed by Police

A comparatively quiet weekend was reported by Hope City Police who did investigate one burglary and a wreck.

Burglars entered the Truck Repair Co. on South Walnut Saturday night, looting the cold drink machine and a cash box of some $50. Entrance was gained through a window.

S. A. Westbrook Jr., driving south on Main and Bobby Kirk of Hope pulling out from the Masonic building, collided with minor damage resulting to the Westbrooks auto.

Two rings valued at about $9.50 each were stolen by a high school boy at Oaks Cafe, Chief of Police Brown will take the case before the juvenile judge this week. The boy was turned over to custody of his father.

Woman's Body Found, Premier of Iran to Quit

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Sources close to the Iranian government said today Prime Minister Husseini Ala has told associates he will resign as result of the desert bandit massacre of three Americans.

Three informants said his resignation will be announced Wednesday, after the departure of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, now in Tehran as a government guest, so as to prevent embarrassment to Adenauer.

The sources said Dr. Menucheh Eghbal, vigorous president of Tehran University, court minister and close associate of the Shah will be proposed as new premier.

The change reportedly was to give the government a stronger hand in dealing with banditry and tribal defiance of the government.

Earlier, the United States announced that the Point Four program in southern Iran has been suspended until the killers are caught.

The American victims of the bandits were Mrs. Anita Carroll and her husband, Kevin, a U.S. Point Four program official; Brewster Wilson, who was development specialist for the Near East Foundation; Mrs. Carrolls body was found yesterday two miles from the spot where her husband, Wilson, and two Iranians were slain in ambush a week ago Sunday.

Clark S. Gregory, director of the Point Four program in Iran, announced that aid had been suspended because was not wholly satisfied with measures taken so far to wipe out the desert bandits responsible for the killings. Gregory made the announcement after an on-the-spot investigation.

Iranian troops and police on foot still pursued the ambush killers over the mountain backs of the desolate, isolated section of southern Beluchistan.

Meanwhile, the 35-year-old American woman's body was flown here. Street crowds watched silently as a flower-banked ambulance.

Huge Check on Body of Slain Man

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
CHICAGO, (UP)—Police today said they found a check for $300,000 on the body of former banker Leon Marcus, 61, a figure in the $2.5 million Orville Hodge scandal who was kidnapped and slain in a gangland-style "ride."

Marcus body was found last night dumped in a vacant South Side lot. He had been shot once in the back of the head with a .45 caliber pistol.

Authorities said the check was made out to "Marcus" and was drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio. They said his wallet also contained $1,640 in cash and $2,100 in travelers checks.

Other than to identify the bank on which the $300,000 check was drawn, police declined to describe it further.

Acting Chief of Detectives William Touhy said robbery was "definitely" ruled out as the motive for the kidnap-slaying.

"I'm inclined to think the motive might have been revenge for something, or the murder may date back to the Hodge case," Touhy said. "Marcus was due for trial soon, and perhaps someone thought there might be some revelations."

Marcus owned controlling interest and was a former director of the Southmore Bank and Trust Co., where ex-Illinois Auditor Orville Hodge cashed most of his phony state checks.

Hodge and former Southmore President Edward Hintz are serving prison terms in the giant embezzlement.

Marcus, who resigned from the bank shortly after the scandal broke, was under federal indictment on charges of misapplying bank funds.

Little Chance for Civil Rights Issue

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any chance of civil rights legislation passing Congress this year? Don't bet on it. Some people are optimistic. But Southerners, as usual, are against new civil rights laws.

The House Judiciary Committee has approved a bill — essentially the kind asked by President Eisenhower — but the full House hasn't voted on it yet. The Rules Committee still must clear it.

It's almost certain to pass the House, where debate is limited. The Senate Judiciary Committee hasn't approved any bills yet. If it does, the measure will probably be similar to the House bill.

But then, when it comes before the full Senate where debate is unlimited, it faces a Southern filibuster which, for generations, has been able to block civil rights legislation.

This describes the House bill: 1. It would authorize Eisenhower to create a six-man commission to study the whole field of civil rights for two years and then make recommendations. The commission could subpoena witnesses and records.

This authority means power: The commission could force witnesses to testify or, if they refuse, face a fine and jail sentence in federal court.

If Eisenhower created such a commission on his own it would lack subpoena power and therefore be handcuffed from the start. It would have to depend on hostile witnesses for voluntary cooperation.

Southerners argue against the proposed subpoena power.

2. At present the Justice Department has a civil rights section tucked away in its Criminal Division. The House bill would create both a new Civil Rights Division and a new assistant attorney general to run it.

Not much argument on that one.

3. At present in the South if someone — say a registrar of voters — interferes with a Negro's voting rights, the latter could ask a federal judge to issue an injunction to stop the interference.

If the registrar ignored the injunction, the Negro could go back and tell the judge and registrar was in contempt of court. If the judge acted then, the registrar would have to be given a Gwendolyn D. Johnson, a granddaughter of Dunning, contended unsuccessfully that she was entitled to one-tenth the estate under one section of the will.

The probate court held that Mrs. Johnson should receive nothing under this section and was entitled only to a savings bond of unspecified amount which she was bequeathed in another section.

This view was upheld by the Supreme Court majority in an opinion written by Associate Justice Phil Ward. Associate Justices J. S. Holt and Sam Robinson dissented but did not file a written opinion.

city's municipal airport. The unanimous decision affirmed the Sebastian Circuit Court in its dismissal of a suit brought by Arma Jean Kirksey for the death of her husband, Jason.

The legal point involved was whether operation of the airport is a governmental or proprietary function of the city. A governmental unit, such as a city, may not be sued in connection with strictly governmental functions. Both the trial judge and the Supreme Court held that the airport operation was a governmental function.

Kirksey was injured fatally in an explosion at the airport. The widow contended that the explosion was caused by negligence of representatives of the city in ordering the use of certain solvents and in failing to use reasonable care to furnish Kirksey with safe tools and a safe place to work.

Kirksey, the 26-year-old father of four children, died Jan. 9, 1955, seven days after he was injured. His widow filed suit for approximately $173,000.

In a divided opinion, the Supreme Court affirmed Ouachita Probate Court in its interpretation of the will of E. W. Dunning, who died Oct. 1, 1935.

20 Jailed for Rooster Fighting

MAGNOLIA (AP) — Twenty men from Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas were arrested near here yesterday and charged with staging illegal game rooster matches.

Game rooster or cock fighting matches two birds who spur each other in a bloody duel.

Officers from the nearby Louisiana town of Springhill and one Louisiana state trooper assisted Sheriff Claude Linton of Columbia County break up the matches.

All 20 men were released on bail and will appear before a municipal judge here tomorrow afternoon.

The raid was made after officers got reports that cock fighting was a weekly event in a pasture of an uninhabited farm near Magnolia.

President Back in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was back at the White House today after a comparatively slop, paced drive from Gettysburg, Pa.

Returning yesterday from a weekend of rest at his farm, Eisenhower's car kept to the posted speed limits throughout most of the 85-mile trip.

When he rode to Gettysburg Friday, his car — driven by a Secret Service man — moved at speeds of 70 to 75 miles an hour much of the way. This was well above the speed limit.

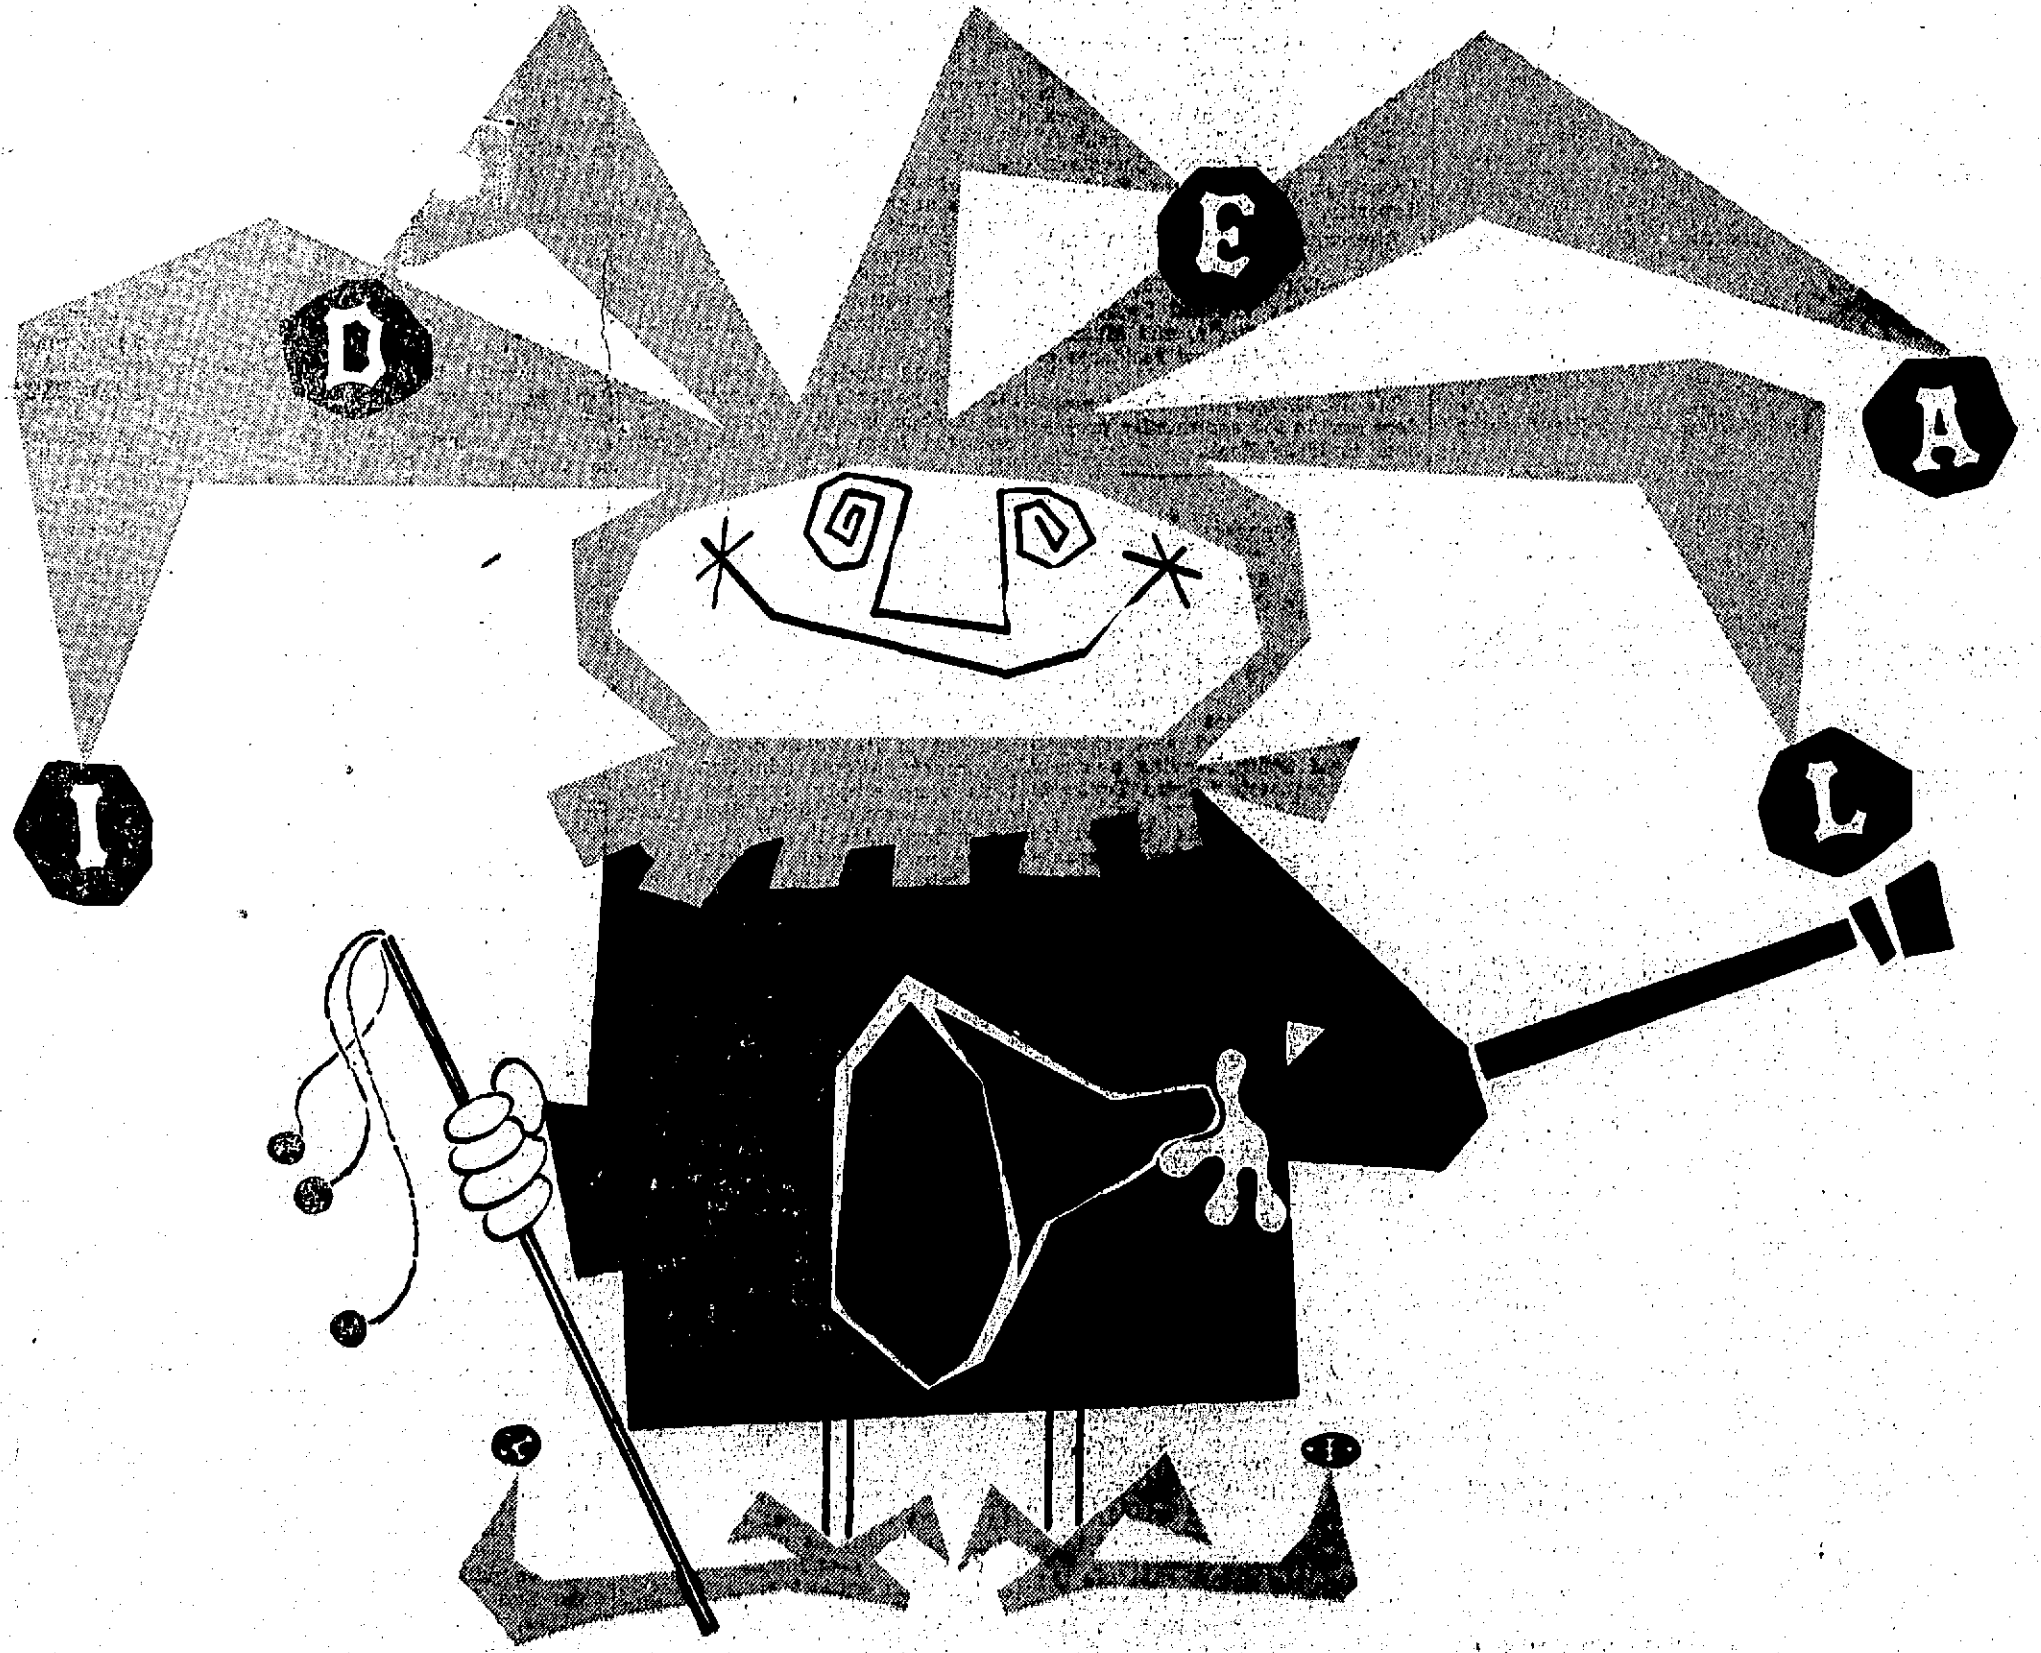

Newsmen, following the President in several cars, had no trouble keeping up on the return trip. But on Friday, they were flagged down to the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit by police in Montgomery County, Md. Later they had to step up to as much as 100 miles an hour to overtake the President.

The homeward drive was made over a different route than was followed Friday. The President's car halted for every stop sign and red light, although a Pennsylvania state trooper waved the party through one red light.

Spring's white touches lend sparkle to clothes only if they're kept fresh. To keep neckline fill-ins and snowy gloves looking as they should takes homework but the results are worth the effort. This girl has chosen (left) a frilly neckline fill-in of pleated nylon jersey that takes to water readily, dries quickly. It needs no pressing and thus one time-consuming step is eliminated. White fabric gloves (center) pick up dirt readily, particularly in the city. If they're very soiled, use a soft, well-lathered brush for the stubborn spots. White that's really white (right) puts a girl into a springtime mood.

Transitional furniture makes a perfect foil for individual accessories. Here a south-of-the-border theme is suggested by ancient stone carving, wine jug lamps, lithographs of ancient Mexican pottery. Burnt orange of draperies is repeated in the slim-lined, high-backed sofa. The adaptably styled furniture is solid maple in a warm brown finish. (Consider H. Willett)

DOROTHY DIX

Relishing the Past Will Only Embarrass Ex-Beau

Dear Drithy Dix: When I was a sophomore in high school, I fell in love with a boy in service. He gave me his ring before he left for camp, several states away. I promised to wear it, at least until he got out of service.

Then I met Perry. He wanted to give me a ring, too. Finally I sent the first ring back, but no sooner had I done so, than Perry wrote and said we'd better not see each other again. He never did know that I had sent the soldier's ring back.

When I met my husband Perry was, completely forgotten. Now, however, I keep thinking about him. I see him occasionally, though we've never spoken, but even after all these years, I'd like to let him know about the ring. I worry so much about it that the gloom is beginning to show.

TOO LATE

Dear Too Late: Almost every girl has a similar episode in her past, but most of them manage to keep it there. By this time Perry probably is married, and any attempt on your part to explain things would sound silly to him.

Your present life should be absorbing enough to counteract these thoughts.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Three years ago I married a wonderful man. My love for him is increasing all the time — and is the cause of my present problem. It's the thought that if anything should happen to me, my husband would probably marry again. The thought that someone else will take my place is most distressing.

Dear Dixie: You have a life expectancy of 50 years, so put off the worrying for a while.

Dear Dorothy Dix: How can I break up with my boy friend, who

Day and Georgin Gibbs. Miss Collins and Snooky Lanson, teamed on the show since it started its TV career seven years ago, hold the longevity record. Dorothy doesn't mind admitting it is a real wrench to leave Hit Parade but she is realistic about it.

It has been my life for so long," she said. I turned down all outside offers to stay with it, and I'll always be eternally grateful for the break it gave me. But it really is time to move on — in something new. You have to grow up. You have to leave school sometime.

Dorothy, a cute blonde whose trademarks were a blouse and a velvet ribbon bow tie, started by singing the commercial jingle on the show, quickly graduated to stellar rank.

To cure a tendency toward lisp, she spent years hissing practically every word in the English language containing the letter E.

Today nothing annoys her more than people who think she still lisps. "I don't," she said. But people don't really hear what you say. They look at my lips as I sing and think they hear a lisp — but the lisp is only in their mind. It isn't in my voice."

This is actually true. Dorothy can say Mississippi endlessly and never lisp once.

Canadian born, she became a vocalist at 12 but never took a singing lesson until after she became a professional at 16. Until then she had dreamed of being a secretary.

To prepare herself for a dramatic career, she has been studying acting and dancing intensively. She is currently considering two musical comedy roles and a movie offer.

I'd really like to see what I can do in a serious role," she said. But most of all I want to escape from singing teen-age love songs. I'm a little tired of them."

She and Raymond Scott live in a 32-room home on an 11-acre Long Island estate with their daughter, Debbie, 2½. Fourteen of the rooms are full of Raymond's hi-fi equipment and a collection of more than 5,000 records," said Dorothy. Scott expects to have more time now to concentrate on his musical compositions. One of his latest efforts is entitled, "Dedicated piece to the crew and passengers of the first experimental rocket express to the moon." It has never been featured on Hit Parade.

Porkers Win Handily in Track Meet

MEMPHIS (AP)—The University of Arkansas easily took top honors in the big school division of the Memphis relays held here Saturday.

The Porkers won four relays and all four of the freshman-junior college events. Other Division winners were Tennessee and Mississippi State.

Bobby Dixon, a little fellow from Kessler, Ark., was named the outstanding athlete. Running for Arkansas, the shaded Carroll Hamilton of Hanover in the voting.

Dixon won the 100-yard dash in 10.9, ran anchor on the winning 440-yard relay team, ran second man on the winning sprint medley team and ran second leg on the winning mile relay foursome.

Team points were not kept. Each race was a trophy race. Arkansas won places in these events:

IN THE BAG—This is no baggy fish story like a shaggy dog story, but a new fact of modern living. Live goldfish, in plastic bags, as shown above, are on sale in Cleveland, Ohio, drug stores. An oxygen-producing process enables the fish to live in the sealed containers until transferred to bowls.

PERENNIAL — Vienna-born Hedy Lamarr, shown as Joan of Arc in Warner Brothers' "The Story of Mankind," is making scattered appearances lately to prove that she's still one of Hollywood's most beautiful performers. While happily married to a Texas oil baron, semiretired Hedy admits a good role can bring her before the cameras again.

three times. Most of the tornado activity was in the south and southeast parts of the state.

There were no deaths or serious injuries reported.

What had all the symptoms of a tornado except the funnel struck Huntsville and plowed through an area about two miles long and several blocks wide.

The wind flattened two garages and a skating rink, unroofed several houses and blew in window panes. It lifted a giant tree and dropped it on the roof of a new car, crumpling the top all the way to the seats.

At Baytown, on the Gulf Coast, high winds tore loose a radio station antenna and blew a small boat out of the bay and smashed it against a house 1,000 feet away.

High winds and tornadoes also unroofed houses at Austin, Bryan, Taylor, Belton and Roundrock. High winds hit Houston.

Twenty-two persons were evacuated from a section of West Dallas when faulty drainage let water back up three feet deep after the area was pelted by more than two and a half inches of rain.

Just outside M City at Farmer's Branch, three and a half inches of rain fell in two hours, causing the highway between that city and Dallas to be blocked off temporarily. Water was standing in some houses at Farmer's Branch.

Demos to Try to Consolidate Michigan Gain

By JAMES C. DEWEY

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Democrats seek to consolidate a decade of political gains in today's statewide election with a pair of victories that would give them a sweep of the State Administrative Board for the first time in history.

Democrats haven't held every seat on the nine-man board since its creation in 1921. The board, made up of the state's top office holders, exercises general supervisory control over administrative departments.

State highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction are the only board jobs now held by Republicans, who 10 years ago had all 25 state elected offices.

Democrats now hold nine statewide posts. They swept six out of six last November despite the fact the state gave President Eisenhower a 333,000-vote majority.

A convincing Republican victory today would do much to inject new hope and fire in the state party. The GOP under the direction of its new 35-year-old state chairman, Lawrence B. Lindemer, has been emphasizing the qualifications of its candidates in the campaign.

Top interest in the election centers on the Highway Commission and school superintendent positions.

U. S. Trying to Pin Egypt Down to Agreement

By WARREN ROGERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is trying to pin Egypt down to a Suez Canal agreement, protecting the interests of Western users.

U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare yesterday handed the Egyptian government the preliminary U. S. response to Egypt's proposal for running the international waterway.

The response, described as constructive, was intended to invite further negotiations.

Some changes were understood to have been suggested in line with U. S. support of (1) the six principles adopted last Oct. 13 by the United Nations Security Council and accepted by Egypt then, and (2) the U. S. British-French-Norwegian interim plan for turning over half the oils to an international agency pending a long-range settlement.

Officials are reported anxious to have Nasser's proposal — after changes are made to protect Western users — registered in such a way as to give it an international character binding on all nations who ratify it.

As a unilateral statement, it could be changed by Nasser at will. But as an international document, it would require agreement of other signers before it's terms could be changed.

U. S. officials appeared most disturbed over what they consider Nasser's apparent disregard of the U. N.'s six principles. Basically, these guaranteed Egypt's sovereignty, but sought to keep the canal free of international disputes, set up fair oils and an improvement fund, and settle claims by arbitration.

Nasser called for Egypt to have the upper hand completely, collecting tolls and a 5 per cent royalty on gross take. He suggested, however, that 25 per cent of the gross be put into a fund for development, somewhat short of the 50 per cent set-aside suggested by the four-power plan.

Income Jumps for Irrigated Crops

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas farmers have gained an estimated 25 million dollars yearly from irrigation of dry crops, an Agricultural and Extension Service official declares.

Engineer James L. Gattis says that cotton irrigation alone has added about 11 million dollars to farm income.

He said Saturday that 512,939 acres of dry crops were irrigated in Arkansas last year compared to 16,000 in 1946 and the amount now exceeds rice irrigation.

Damage at Huntsville was estimated at $500,000 while the figure for Baytown was set at $50,000.

The Trinity River flowing through Dallas was on a five-foot rise and was expected to go higher but well within the 80-foot dikes that protect the city. The sudden downpour gave the city its wettest March in 12 years.

Power and telephone lines were broken by the high winds at Bryan. Emergency crews worked last night to restore service.

Judging Oscar Winners May Be Unfair

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Academy aftermath.

The late Humphrey Bogart had an amusing view on academy awards. Through he had won an Oscar himself for "The African Queen," he observed the only fair way to judge acting competition would be to let every actor have a go at Hamlet or some other role, and let the best man win.

There was wisdom in Bogart's caustic remark. How can any competition be fair when it is conducted under such differing circumstances? It's like having one miler run in a high wind, another in a driving rainstorm and another carrying a full Army pack.

For instance, Yul Brynner is this year's winner. But is his victory fair? He played his role many hundred times in the stage "The King and I" before doing the job in films.

Is his achievement greater than Kirk Douglas? Douglas had to portray many shades of madness in "Lust for Life." He had to create the role of Van Gogh right in the sound stage, without benefit of doing it time after time in the theater.

What is the answer? It is that performances not only have to be good; they have to be in popular pictures.

Academy voters keep an eye to the box office. They are impressed with pictures that capture the public's approval, and dollars. Seldom has a film or star won the top Oscars without doing excellent business.

Take Ingrid Bergman's award. There is no denying her artistry. It's understandable that the academy voters elected her. "Anastasia" was a showy role, and the sentimental angle of her return to favor was irresistible.

But the picture did not realize its potential. The direction was faulty. The magnificent scene when the dowager empress (Helena Hayes) recognizes her granddaughter failed to achieve the bellingering effect it had in the stage play.

Want to know my choice for the best actress performance of the year? It was by Deborah Kerr. But not in "The King and I." Her best work was in "Tea and Sympathy." She had compassion, understanding and integrity.

I will never be nominated. Deborah told me months ago. The woman was too normal. You have to be a dope addict, alcoholic or lunatic to win a nomination.

News About McCaskill Community

WCS District Meeting

The McCaskill Methodist Church will entertain the district meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service at an all day meeting the latter part of April. About 150 women are expected to attend. Luncheon will be served in the community building.

A business meeting of the McCaskill Community Association was held at the community building Tuesday night for the purpose of deciding ways and means of repairing and improving the building which in former years was the McCaskill schoolhouse. Roof and auditorium repairs were deemed the most pressing needs along with rest-room facilities and more banquet tables so that large groups of people could be entertained at dinner.

A film on "Brucellosis" was shown at the community building Thursday night by County Agent Oliver Adams.

The HDC club met on March 15 at the home of Mrs. Cloyd Blittick. Devotionalists were given by Mrs. John Gaines and Mrs. R. G. Shuffield gave the program paper on "Growing Old Intelligently." Roll call was answered with "My Favorite TV Program." The club voted to take as its annual project the beautification of a vacant corner lot in the town. Mrs. Loy Rodgers and Bert Scott, Jr., will serve as a membership committee to get new members. Afternoon refreshments were served by Mrs. Blittick and Mrs. J. G. Prescott.

Postmaster Geneva Moses made a weekend trip to McGehee to attend a postal meeting.

Mrs. J. G. Prescott was in Ector, Tex., Saturday through Tuesday to visit her mother and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Prescott and Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Blittick and daughter went to Sweet Home one night last week to help that community organize a Rural Community Improvement Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mosley and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shuffield went to the races at Hot Springs on Wednesday.

Mrs. Dudley Woolfolk, race horse trainer who has been with the races at Hot Springs, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rhodes, and children, Karen and Danny, who stay with their grandparents during the school year. Mrs. Woolfolk was accompanied by a friend. Their husbands joined them on Sunday from Hot Springs.

G. D. "Buster" Royston was elected a member of the Plevins school board by a write-in vote at the recent election, March 16. Mr. Royston has two children in the Plevins grade school. Mrs. Royston is president of the P. T. A.

Regime in Argentina in Trouble

By ROMAN JEIMENEZ

BUENOS AIRES — A sharp dispute with air force leaders and younger officers today shook Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's regime.

Observers wondered how many more of the recurrent crises his government could survive.

Aramburu struggled to keep control over the defiant air officers, angered over the President's postponement of a general election to pick a constitutional government and his dismissal of Commander Julio Cesar Krause, the air minister. The resulting crisis was considered the gravest since Aramburu's government assumed power Nov. 13, 1955.

The air officers' objection to the change in the election date and their demand for Krause's reinstatement have now been subordinated to their defense of the air forces tender pride. The chairmen themselves appeared split, with the older officers inclined to a compromise and the younger ones trying to make a big issue of their differences with Aramburu.

Aramburu was understood to be striving for a compromise to assure continued support of his regime by all three armed services. A majority of the army and virtually all the navy support his election plan.

Aramburu told Argentina Saturday the election would be held Feb. 23, 1956. The government had said previously it expected to fix the date for next fall, but the President said it was impossible to hold the voting that soon. He said the new government would take office May 1 instead of June 20 as previously planned.

A large group of air force officers want to voting to take place soon because of what they call the provisional government's failure to solve the nation's problems.

Krause opposed postponement. Arturo Frondizi, Radical party leader and the only declared presidential candidate so far, had been calling loudly for an early election.

Texas Rainfall Apparently Ends Drought

DALLAS — Tornadoes and heavy rains pounded parts of Texas yesterday but despite the violence there was a bright side to the weather picture—the drought showed signs of easing its long grip on parts of the state.

A squall line plowed across eastern Texas into Louisiana last night. Tornadoes lashed at least five places. Only two persons were injured, but property damage was high.

A two-mile path of destruction was cut in the southeast Texas town of Huntsville, apparently from a tornado. Damage was estimated at half a million dollars.

The path of destruction, about a black wide, included unroofed houses, smashed power lines and trees and shattered windows.

Hard rains fell in north central Texas. Dallas got almost 3 inches, heaviest rainfall in one day since last spring.

Dallas and San Antonio rainfall totals pushed passed the normal mark, the first time in five years at San Antonio.

Minor property damage was reported from tornadoes at Austin, Boerne and Bryan. A twister at Baytown damaged at least three houses and knocked down the 25-foot tower of radio station KRCT.

Lightning set fire to three of five storage tanks of the Buford Oil Co. 10 miles west of Goliad. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

Several homes were evacuated, a bridge was washed out and many roads were temporarily closed by rain waters near Dallas.

Lemon, Friend Come Through to Post Wins

By FRED DOWN
UP Sports Writer

Add Bob Friend and Bob Lemon to the list of pitchers who are ready for their opening day assignments.

The two rugged right-handers flashed mid-season form yesterday at the Pittsburgh Pirates de-fatted the St. Louis Cardinal, 5-1, and the Cleveland Indian beat the Baltimore Oriole, 8-3. Manager Bobby Bragan and Kirby Farrell have indicated from the start of the spring training that they'll open with Friend and Lemon, assuming only that they're in shape.

Friend, a 17-game winner last season, became the first Pirate hurler to go nine innings when he fired a five-hitter at the Cardinals. Bill Virdon led the Pirates attack with three singles as the Bucks chalked up their 13th victory in 19. Grapefruit league grades.

Lemon, who won 20 games last year, yielded five hits in six innings to gain credit for his fourth win of the spring. Jim Hegan and Roger Maris paced the attack with homers to lead the Indians to their fourth straight triumph and give them an 11-9 spring record.

Dick Drott, a 20-year-old rookie who led the Pacific Coast League in strikeouts last year, turned in a nifty two-hitter over the nine innings to give him a 3-2 record.
Cubs Giant, Both hits off Drott were homers — by Earl Harris in the fourth and by Dusty Rhodes in the eighth. Gene Baker homered for the Cubs.

Don Larsen, the World Series perfect game hero, went seven innings in his longest stint of the spring as the New York Yankees downed the Kansas City Athletics, 7-3. Larsen was touched for 10 hits but only one run and now has yielded six runs and 20 hits in 16 exhibition frames.

Joe Collins blasted a homer, double and single for the Yankees' 12th inning homer provided the Milwaukee Braves with an 8-7 decision over the Washington Senators. The Braves ran up an early 7-0 margin but home runs by Jim Lemon and Lyle Luttrel helped the Senators tie the score. Each manager threw 22 players into action in a three-hour and 16-minute struggle.

Arkansas, April 14, at 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Douglas HD Club Meets
The Douglas HD Club met in the home of Mrs. Jannie Trotter March 20, with Mrs. Gladys Hood conducting devotion.

After the business session, a 'Health' demonstration was given

The Agent, Mrs. Maude Davis gave a demonstration on 'out-worm control' and 'tid-bit tray'.
She also gave information about the 'Meat and Egg Show' and the 'Dress Revue'.

Visitors were: two 4-H Club girls from Masdonia Club, and Mrs. Gladys Hood, from the Church
Hill Club.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Elyweaver Brown,

Italian Favored to Retain Title

PARIS (UP) — World bantamweight Champion Mario D'Agata of Italy is a slight favorite to retain his crown tonight when he meets hard-hitting Alphonse Hallimi of French North Africa in France's first world boxing title fight in 20 years.

A capacity crowd of 15,000 is expected at the Palais Des Sports, including many Italians. The last championship bout here was in 1927 when Marcel Thill of France successfully defended his middleweight crown against Lou Brouillard of Canada.

Braves to Go With Same Lineup

By JOE REICHLER

BRADENTON, Fla. — The Milwaukee Braves have decided to stand pat because Manager Fred Haney is convinced the same hands who frittered away the pennant last year will win it this year.

The usual procedure for a defeated club is to try to strengthen its weakest hand, but Haney's explanation sounds plausible.
Of course, Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell hurt us a lot last year," he said. But there were other reasons why we didn't get enough hitting. None of our big hitters had a standout season.
The other was that we lacked a practiced leadoff man. Of the two,
I guess the latter did us the greater harm."

That's easy to understand knowing Haney's style of play. If the leadoff man got on, Fred would bunt whether it was his first or ninth inning. It is his reasoning that a run over the plate is worth two on the bases.

I honestly believe this team can win the pennant the way it stands right now," Haney said.
Remember, none of our men had a really big year last season.
I include Henry Aaron. Even if he did lead the league, he has to be better than the 328 hitter he was last year. Aaron is the best hitter in the league - yes, better than Willie Mays - and he is capable of hitting .350 or .360.

The point I'm trying to make is that when a team wins a pennant, most of its keymen get hot all together. We lost the pennant by only one game and we didn't have one man who had an exceptional year. In fact, four men had below average years."

Haney identified Thomson, O-
Connell, Eddie Mathews and Del Crandall as the four whose performance he thought would be most important for the club to make his prediction look good.

Ex-Collegians Lead Air Force to Win

DENVER — Two former collegians now in uniform-Sanford's Ron Tomsic and St. Louis' Dick Boushka-can take much of the credit today for the first national AAU basketball crown won by the Air Force.

The 1956 U. S. Olympic teammates powered the Air Force All-Stars to an 87-74 triumph over the San Francisco Olympic Club and the title Saturday night.

It climaxed a whirlwind finish in the weeklong tournament for the two title contenders, who had been seeded seventh and eighth.

The scrappy little Tomsic broke open the title game in the closing moments, scoring six quick points after the score was tied, 72-72.
The 5-foot-10 guard scored 20 points while the 6-foot-5 Boushka had 15 points and a total of 104, best mark of the tournament.

Third place in the 50th annual tournament went to Peoria, a member of the National Industrial Basketball League, with a 76-71 win over the defending champion Seattle Bakers.

5th Is Best Hope Can Do in Track Meet

Hope Senior and Junior boys track teams placed fifth in the track meet held at Nashville Friday afternoon. In the Senior boys division, Prescott won the meet with 41 1/3 points, Foreman followed with 39, Nashville had 34
1/3, DeQueen 27 and Hope 23
1/3.

Delton Hatfield scored the only first place for the Bobcats by winning the 880 yard dash in 2 minutes, 15.1 seconds. Don Sulton tied for first place in the high jump with a 5 foot 4 inch jump.
Prescott and Nashville contestants placed in the tie.

Lynn Montgomery placed second in the 120 yard high hurdles with a 17.3 score and Billy Hair placed second in the 180 yard low hurdles with a 23.9 time.

Charles Tittle placed third in the broad jump with 17 feet and 11 inches. Charles Fowler placed third in the 440 yard dash with a time of 58.8 and James Gilbert placed fourth in the same event.

The 440 yard relay team placed third with a time of 47.5. The team is composed of Johnny Graves, Charles Fowler, Charles Tittle and Johnny Nix.

Jerry Thurman placed fourth in the shot put with a distance of 38 feet, one and a fourth inches.
Johnny Nix placed fourth in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.9.

In the Junior division, DeQueen won first place with 45 points.
Nashville placed second with 23 1/2
Ashdown third with 18, Prescott had 14 1/2, Hope 13 1/4 and Foreman 7 1/4.

The Bobkittens scored no first places. Joe Matt Herndon scored second in the 50 yard dash with a time of 6 seconds. The event was won with a time of 5.9. Richard Neal scored second place in the discus throw with a toss of 118 feet, 3 5/8 inches.

Eddie King placed second in the broad jump with 16 feet, 7 1/2 inches. The 880 yard relay team composed of Ronnie Jones, Joe Matt
Herndon, Richard Neal and Terry Don Thurman, placed second with a time of 1 minute, 49.1.

Bobby Erwin placed fourth in the high jump with five foot even.
Larry Vaughn placed fourth in the pole vault with 8 foot and 3 inches.

Thursday afternoon, the teams go to Camden. The Hope teams pitiful showing could be due to a number of things. Being in the District 7-W basketball tournament and then in the state tournament put some of the boys two weeks behind. Coach Turpin gave a week's rest from this and then bad weather kept them indoors another two weeks.

Also, Hope does not have a regulation track where meets can be held here which would give the boys a chance to perform in front of the school and the home folks. Most other schools in the state stress track along with football and basketball realizing that the individual competition tends to build character and sportsmanship in the boy, putting him strictly "on his own."

Milwaukee Pair in Bowling Spotlight

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Two guys from Milwaukee stole the spotlight yesterday in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Little Jimmy (Moe Miller, 26, one of the smallest bowlers in the big time ranks at 5-6 and 115 pounds, moved into second place in the singles standings, missing by a single pin a tie for the lead.

He shot a 3-game total of 707 on games of 205, 234 and 268.
Miller missed the 6 pin in his

St. Louis, Celtics Tied With Game Each

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, tied in their final National Basketball Association playoff series, today wondered which team will be hurt the most by a five-day layoff.

The players aren't saying much but there was a feeling after the Celtics knotted the best-of-seven competition 1-1 yesterday that nobody liked it.

The third game will be in St.
Louis Saturday night and the Celtics ran away from St. Louis 119-91 yesterday.

Frank Ramsey, the ex-Kentucky star, tied backcourt master Bob Cousy at 22 points in the Boston triumph.

The tight Boston defense was reared especially for scoring ace Bob Pettit, who had tallied 37 the first game, was held to 11 points by Jim Loscutt. Marlin dropped from 23 to eight point with Cousy guarding him.

Oaklawn Ends Richest Race Season at Spa

HO TSPRINGS (AP) — Oaklawn has wrapped up its most successful season despite an almost uninterrupted siege of unfavorable weather and off-track conditions.

Out of 31 racing days there were only eight which combined clear weather and a fat track.

Total mutual handle of $15,200-838 set a new high and was an increase of 5.4 per cent over 1956, the previous record year, when $14,435,799 was handled. The daily average was $490,994.

Attendance also set a new record. The 271,812 total was a gain of 5.5 per cent over last year's 257,812, which was slightly under the previous record year of 1955 when 259,003 attended. The daily average was 8,768.

One other record to fall Saturday was the track mark for a mile and a half which

The Rare Adventure
by BERNARD FERGUSON

IX
Allan considered for a moment "I should radio Tunis first, or whoever Billon was reporting to. I quite forgot to ask: is there any news from Nall?"

"No, but Faiz the clerk is writing out a message from Tunis about you, asking for news of your whereabouts and safety."

"No chatter on the telephone this morning?"

"No, I gather there was some talk between operators just after the shooting, but they were only asking each other for news, and neither of them had any."

"I've been thinking. You know something, I take it, of the special and odd relationship that I have with these people?"

"I know that you have the same name as Al Merhametsiz, and that you are a close relation."

"I really am a relation, certainly," said Allan. "He was the younger brother of my I-think-it's-six-greats-and-a-grandfather. But I certainly didn't come out here to help them in any way. I had no idea there was any trouble brewing. I simply came here out of curiosity to find if there were any traces of him. I seem to have misdirected my visit rather badly. But given the situation, I think it possible that I might be able to do something about it."

"What sort of thing?"

"Going to see em. Pointing out the error of their ways. Pointing out how hopeless it is for them to expect to beat France single-handed. Finding out exactly what they want, and why they are going this way about getting it."

"You go to them; you walk out of here saying that you want to talk to them. First difficulty: either they think that you have been allowed to go to them by the French because the French want terms, or you must admit to them that you were in the Gendarmerie of your own free will and took part in this morning's fighting. You are in a difficult position."

"I don't quite see that. In actual fact, Billon ordered me back to the Gendarmerie, and I obeyed him because I am a British subject in a French-administered country."

"Well, what are you going to tell them about the part you played in the fighting?" And about Billon?

"That is a tricky one. Perhaps I

Career Woman
Is Also a Good Cook

Associated Press Women's Editor

Too busy to be a good cook? Nonsense, says Lillian Langseth-Christensen, of New Milford, Conn. She commutes five hours daily, works like a dynamo painting murals and designing interiors of some of New York's most imposing skyscrapers, runs a perfectly appointed home in the country, entertains like mad, caters to the demands of a husband and two children and gets out a new kind of culinary service, Look and Cook, a king-size cookbook with continuing monthly supplements.

With her collaborator, Tatiana McKenna, another accomplished gourmet, she thought up the new cookbook as an aid to women with the same problems as her own—a love of gracious entertaining and good food, and not enough time to dawdle in the kitchen.

This slim, brunette whirlwind now has her own life so organized that she devotes one day a week to preparing seven days' meals, freeze them, stores them and whisks them out on schedule with only a few minutes added preparation needed.

"I had to do it this way," says Lillian, and the system had helped me so much that I thought it only fair to pass along what I learned. In these days when most women are so busy, they either are completely floored by the prospect of cooking, or they become inventive.

Lately Mrs. Langseth-Christensen has had to do most of her advance cooking on weekends as kit day. Here's what she does:

I make all kinds of ices and ice creams in molds and put them in the freezer. I freeze pastries for rolls and desserts. I also freeze all the soups needed for the week. I keep basic sauces—brown sauce, white sauce and salad dressings in the refrigerator. Then when mealtime comes there's usually not more than a meat and vegetable to be prepared at the moment. Any housewife should be able to plan things so that there never are more than two dishes to be prepared at mealtime."

meet the representatives of the people among whom Al Merhametsiz lived and died; and that the French authorities have given him leave to do so; and that Colonel Larg will leave the Gendarmerie and set out along the road toward Areg el Kebir at 8:30 a.m., precisely."

Brisebarre nodded sagaciously. "Let me leave out the bit about Al Merhametsiz having died," he said. "Some of the simpler ones actually believe that he is still alive. I know it sounds silly, but fanatics will believe anything when their blood is up. I will write out what you want me to say, so that I get it exactly right."

"Splendid!" said Mollie.

"I'm glad you approve of it," said Brisebarre. "And I hope it will get you safe conduct. I think it will. The Sekoungals may be barbarians in some ways; but like most Jews and Arabs they have chivalry, and won't abuse hospitality or a flag of truce."
